

Books on Prayer

“The Kneeling Christian” by Anonymous

This book was written in the early 1900's. The author chose to remain anonymous because he didn't want people to pre-judge the content because of who the author was. This book will challenge your faith as the author invites you to “ask anything”.

“Prayer - Experiencing Awe and Intimacy With God” by Timothy Keller

Keller is the pastor of a church in New York. He is a pastor/theologian, so this book has some real depth and looks at what some of our church fathers had to say about prayer.

“Praying For Your Elephants” by Adam Stadtmiller

The title of this book comes from an experience where the author prayed for an elephant and God answered. This is where I got the idea around the 10 categories for our prayer challenge. This book will challenge you to ask for anything and then deals with questions we have with things like unanswered prayer,

“Draw the Circle” by Mark Batterson

Batterson is a pastor of a church in Washington DC. He is all about drawing a circle around the things you are praying for. For example - actually walk around your home/property praying for what you want to see God do there. This is another 40 day prayer challenge.

Praying the Bible by Donald Whitney

Praying scripture is a huge part of prayer. Whitney challenges us with praying the Psalms. Why? Because it is the prayer of David and the other writers of the Psalms. We can learn a lot about how to pray by praying the Psalms.

The Real Faith by Charles Price

This book was also written in the early 1900's. Price preached to 1000's seeing many people get saved and healed. This is less about prayer and more about what faith is and where it comes from. If you believe that faith and prayer go hand in hand than this will impact your prayer life.
